How To Stay Healthy by Dr Suchita Khodke Madam

Health Awareness program

Guidance lecture by Dr. Suchita Khodke, Incharge, Women cell

Date: 15-10-2018

Topic: HOW TO STAY HEALTHY?

Women Cell of Vinayak Vidnyan Mahavidyalaya Nandgaon Khandeshwar organized a Guidance Lecture on “How To stay healthy?” for all girls students and women in Nandgaon Kh.. The speaker for the event was Dr. Suchita Khodke who is an incharge of Women Cell and head of the department of Botany.

This program was start with the anchoring of Ms. Pratiksha Bhuse. The speaker was florally welcome by, Komal Ajmire, Member of Women Cell. The session was started with the introductory speech by Pratiksha Bhuse.

In her speech she said that the purpose of this guidance lecture was to maintain good health.

- Build normal health trends.
- Improve the quality of life for the individual and society

The speaker of this program Dr Suchita Khodke was said that Girl’s education is like sowing the seed to raise the green plant of a charming full grown family which bears fruits. Today’s girl child will be the mother of tomorrow.

The girls of age 19 to 21 years constitute nearly 66 million of population in India. The lives of these girls are characterized by limited education, lack of knowledge pertaining to social as well as health aspects and also limited influence on decisions affecting their lives. Thus, awareness is one major factor for development of this group of population because of the fact that these this age group of girls would be the future housewives.

During this session she talked about

1. Eat Right

This can seem difficult in college but, when broken down, is a bit more attainable. Try to follow some simple principles like: always eat breakfast, never skip meals and snack regularly to avoid hunger. Balance your meals by ensuring you have the proper amounts of fruits, vegetables, whole grains, dairy and proteins while leaving sugary and fatty foods by the wayside.

2. Exercise

Keeping your body healthy and in shape is important. It doesn't have to be extreme either! Walk to your classes, take a class that involves physical fitness or check out the student facilities your campus offers for students to utilize.

3. Get Enough Sleep

It can be difficult to ensure you're getting enough sleep when you've got a huge load of class work, piled on top of all your other commitments or when your friends are staying out all night partying. But getting enough sleep can really improve your overall health and wellness. For college students, experts recommend seven to nine hours nightly.

Drink Lots of Water

Staying hydrated will give you more energy throughout the day, reinvigorates your body, stops you from overeating and aids in concentration. It also helps prevent those pesky headaches so fill up your water bottle daily. Remember to reuse a refillable bottle rather than wasting plastic, which is bad for the environment!

“Good health is not something we can buy. However it can be an extremely valuable saving account.”by quoting this Dr. Suchita Khodke ended the guidance lecture. The talk was an interactive session which provided insights to all the students to stay healthy.

Vote of thanks delivered by Ms. Kanchan Gawande. Dr. Alka Bhise, Principal of college was congratulate the women cell for this event and motivated to organised such events for students.

Date: 30-09-2019

No. of participants:113

Place: Nandgaon Khandeshwar

The session was started with the introductory speech by Dr. Suchita Khodke.

She said about the aim of this program is to aware the girls student about their adolescence problems and educate them how to overcome these problems.

She started her guidance with the information of adolescent group. She said that adolescent group comprises of people between the ages of 10 to 19 years (WHO). The multidimensional development during adolescence presents a number of challenges to them. Adolescents are under pressure to meet the academic expectations of teachers, parents and self. A higher achievement is valued in the society, which puts pressure on students. Experience suggests that adolescents are at greater risk of getting into trouble if their parents are not clear about what to tell them, while concentrating on academic performance among the adolescence. Parents often are not prepared to deal with the challenge that their adolescent is learning to hold her and his reins. Most parents ignore the psychological needs of their adolescents which in turn will affect their mental health.

Her experience suggested that adolescents are at greater risk of getting into trouble if their parents are not clear about what to tell them. Although most adolescents are not happy when parents tell them what to do or not do, they understand and believe that parents are care about them. Adolescents communicate with peers much more closely than parents, teachers and others with whom they communicate only what is necessary. The nature and type of communications adolescents have with their peers, teachers and parents affect their overall behaviour and wellbeing. Parents need to be more consultative and extend their communications to cover diverse topics of interest to adolescents beyond academics and discipline.

In next she said about the girls menstrual period. She focused on following points.

- There is need to educate girls and their caretakers (eg. parents or guardians) about what to expect of a first menstrual period and the range for normal cycle length of subsequent menses.
- Identification of abnormal menstrual patterns in adolescence may improve early identification of potential health concerns for adulthood.
- It is important for every girl to have an understanding of the menstrual patterns of adolescent girls, the ability to differentiate between normal and abnormal menstruation, and the skill to know how to evaluate the adolescent girl patient.

Report of Inauguration of Sanitary Vending Machine and Incinerator

Date: 8th March 2022

On the occasion of International Women's Day, sanitary napkin vending machine and incinerator machine were brought to the students at Vinayak Science College, Nandgaon Khandeshwar.

Today's fast paced life requires such a machine. Along with the issue of safety of women and students who are outside for hours, the issue of their health also becomes important. That is why it is very necessary to have a napkin machine in every college and office. It was under this guidance that a machine bus was introduced in the college.

The response of the girls was much better after the actual installation. This has become a necessity in the present times.

Dr. Sanitary Napkin Vending Machine and Incinerator was inaugurated by Minal Deshmukh, President Gynecologist Association Amravati. As the chief guest at this inauguration ceremony, Dr. Shalaka Bari Secretary Gynecologist Association Amravati was present. On this occasion, the principal of the college Dr. Alka Bhise presided over the function. On this occasion Dr. Meenal Deshmukh wished the students on International Women's Day and in an orientation speech guided the students about the importance of the machine and how to use it and the health effects of not using sanitary napkins. Women's room congratulated for this.

On this occasion Dr. Shalaka Bari told the students about the theme of this year's International Women's Day. Addressing the students in his speech, he told the students that this year's theme of International Women's Day 2022 is 'Gender Equality Today for a Sustainable Tomorrow'. According to this, even though gender equality is seen in the society now, there are still some elements of the society where women do not get the right to education, to speak freely, to fulfill their dreams. Different themes are organized every year to create awareness in such factors. Accordingly, this year's theme is gender equality. Even today we do not talk much about menstruation in our presidential speech. It is spoken like a whisper. Menstruation is still considered taboo in our country. Then we appealed that we should change this situation. In his thanksgiving, the coordinator of women's room Dr. Suchita Khodke thanked Gynecologist Association Amravati for providing financial support for the purchase of sanitary napkin vending machine.
